be in it, taking books off the shelves and staying up late reading them. Opened today a reader, tomorrow a leader. The world was hers for the reading. I cannot remember the books I've read any more than the meals I have eaten; even so, they have made me. A good book is an event in my life. Books are a uniquely portable magic. Only the very weak-minded refuse to be influenced by literature and poetry. Books are the quietest and most constant of friends; they are the most accessible and wisest of counselors and the most patient of teachers. A great book should Read before you think. There are worse crimes than burning books. One of them is not reading them. It was books that taught me that the things that tormented me most were the very things that connected me with all the people who were alive, who had ever been alive. A good library will never be too neat, or too dusty, because somebody will always be in it, taking books off the shelves and staying up late reading them.
